“ Even when Alfred was down, he was always worried about his people. He took great pains to write his proposals and help make a better life for Creeks and all tribes alike. I grew to know Alfred even better through my husband, James, who is Alfred's cousin and close friend and right-hand man. He loves Alfred and we will both continue to love Alfred in spirit as we know he is looking upon us now. He is no doubt leading the singing in Heaven above and I can see the twinkle in his eye. We love you Alfred and miss you already. Mvto from James Starr & Dee Starr

“ My sincere condolences to the Berryhill Family. Alfred has come a long way and he never looked down on anyone. Everyone was equal in his eyes. Always trying to help anyone that he could. He would give the shirt off his back if someone wanted it. Truly a Christian man. Alfred is gone but will never be forgotten. Have some very Precious Memories of Alfred when our parents drug us to Church when we were little tykes.
