“ I am so sorry to hear of Casey's passing. One of my bosses' daughters had a child on the same day that Casey was born and their family was in the waiting room with your family at Garden Park Hospital. My heart is breaking for your family. Losing a loved one is hard, but losing a child is the hardest thing to live through. My third granddaughter was born on Dec. 20, 2010 and passed away on Jan. 09, 2011. I am writing to you to tell you that although you may not think you can survive this tragedy, you can. I survived it because I had others depending on me, but God is the one who took the heaviness from my heart. You all are in my thoughts and prayers.##imported-begin##Kimberly Ware##imported-end##

“ O god,I know you will never give us a burden to bear without giving us the grace to endure it, but some burdens just seem so heavy we find ourselves wonderin if they can be survived! I ask that you fulfill your promise to send an abundant amount of strength and grace to my neice and her husband who suffer so! Let them feel your presence in a very real way, Lord, for without you, they have no hope!###imported-begin##Mary Williams###imported-end##

“ Lord, I know You recognize that every life we lose is a gift to be treasured, a loss to be mourned, and a part of our hearts forever. Thank You for understandin that although we believe in eternal life, it hurts so so much to lose someone we love. Comfort my family who are grieving, Lord, Fill them with the knowledge that you are grieving with them and will carry them through this difficult time.###imported-begin##Mary Williams###imported-end##

“ Kassandra and Casey,
I'm so sorry for the decision you had to make and I can't imagine what you are going through. I am praying that you are able to find some peace and comfort and strength right now. I have no doubt that sweet Casey is exactly the right angel God needed and that his wings are a perfect fit.###imported-begin##Emily Pingul (GPMC Nursery)###imported-end##
