“ Oh my dear friend. How I will miss you. You were my rock and sounding board during an extremely difficult time. I will miss your crazy text messages and phone calls. And to think our friendship started Sophomore year in English II. I don't know that I ever did thank you for letting me wear your baseball jacket all the time. You were probably the only person on earth more heard headed and stubborn than me. Fly high CJ. You were more loved than you know, and will be missed by so many.
