“ hey dad. 7 years. it seems like forever, almost like the song by lucas Graham about growing up. beaus brother died today, his name was Joe. kinda weird, those little coincidences. im hoping your enjoying your new fishing buddy. im still going strong dad. im still here. I still think of you, I havent forgotten. watching those old vine videos on your armchair, soccer outside, forza on the 360. even the smaller things. there's reminders of you everywhere, and thats why I know your not truly gone, and you never will be. I carry a peice of you with me always. DL4L

“ hey dad. I miss you. I've grown alot, since you left. I feel like a whole different person than that 9 year old you left here. I still don't fully understand why, why you had to die right then and there, right before you got the help that would save you. sometimes it feels like the universe is just slapping me repeatedly. I wonder sometimes if it was my fault it ended this way, that maybe I could have stopped that train before it started. you better be up there with paa-paa, running around with the bird-dogs or fishing at a lake somewhere. love you man.

“ Nature's first green is gold,. Her hardest hue to hold. Her early leafs a flower,. But , only so an hour. Then leaf subsides to leaf. So Eden sank in grief. Then dawn goes on to day,. Nothing gold can stay.
Robert Frost. Danny I still remember the day I started quoting this poem. That DL smile that crossed your face. You said, "That poem is from one of my favorite books." And , I replied. "The Outsider. it's one of mine too.". Your birthday is coming up. Just wanted you to know you're missed so much. Stay Gold.

“ I am Ashton Lesley,Danny's son. He is the best person I will ever know. We would play soccer outside. He taught me how to ride a bike. He told me to run around in the rain just for the heck of it.The night he passed, I hugged and kissed him.He said he would get help. But he didn't have enough time. I will honor him until I'm up there too. Thank you,everyone who has done anything for my family. I will never forget that.

“ My name is Amy Tucker Summers - Danny was my cousin. My mom, Pauline Lesley Tucker, was Joe's sister. I haven't seen Danny since he was a tiny little blonde boy. He would bounce up and down in his little jumpy chair that hung from a door frame, and Uncle Joe would growl about him looking like a twinkle-toe ballerina!

Looking at Danny's pictures - the kindness in his face and the love he obviously had for his family - makes me appreciate the goodness and love that Bertha Lesley passed down through the generations to her grandchildren. And it makes me extremely sad for the tremendous loss that his family is experiencing. I am just so, so sorry. Love to all, Amy

“ In Elementary School Danny was like a brother to me. He always stepped in when kids would pick on me telling people not to pick on his sister. You see my birthday is 3/23/81 and he and I were in the nursery at Okmulgee Memorial together. We both had an "I Deerly love Christmas" sweatshirt we wore to school on the same day purely by accident. Not a single holiday season goes by that I do not think of these shirts. Every March 22 I wake up and think "today is Danny's birthday". I know you all will miss him so very much. Sending you wishes of peace and happy memories.
