Daniel Lee Rider, passed away at his home on July 5, 2024, at the age of 52. Daniel was born in Los Angeles, California. He was raised by his wonderful parents Francis (Mike) and Edith Rider.

Daniel had the privilege of working at Disneyland on the yellow submarine during his youth. His family fondly recalls this as his most cherished job, filled with pleasant memories. Subsequently, he pursued a career as an IT specialist, offering his expertise to various establishments, including car dealerships and private schools. In 2014, Daniel made the decision to relocate to Oklahoma to be closer to his parents.

“ When we were kids hanging out at your house we always had so much fun. The last time I saw you we were at your place in California bleaching our hair hanging out by the pool. I'm glad I had that memory with you as an adult because I didn't have any others with you as an adult. When you move to Oklahoma it was almost impossible to see you So sorry you were sick

“ Daniel Rider was a great Nephew, I never had the privilege of meeting him in person. Our talks were only on the phone, he found me, I’m his great Aunt Geri. I was able to share with him of his Native American side, being Yankton Sioux and California Indian. I’m going to miss his calls, his Dad said I could come and go coon hunting with him but I don’t think so. I’d get lost and they would have to look for me. I know Kristen is missing him and if I were there I’d give you a big hug and I love you. My prayers are with this whole family. Love Auntie Geri & Uncle John

“ The Rider family and ours spent most of our time together. Frank was the youth group leader... and Daniel of course was one of ours! We lived a few miles apart and were always together.

The picture I'm sharing shows Daniel's silly side (L to R: Robert, Uncle Bum and Daniel. Bottom: Tricia). We went to Knotts Berry Farm together and it is one of my favorite memories among many.

Brian and I send our love to you all!
