“ I finally got to view the video and read the obituary. My heart aches for David's family. All he has endured and all his family has. God sure knew what he was doing when he gave David an awesome mother like Rhonda. David is my HERO and I will tell anyone in the world about him. He was such a strong person, yet such a gentle person. That smile of his just melted hearts. His perseverance, his strength.... just taking things as they came and dealing with them.... Wow... what a man! Love you, David Cox! I am sure you are enjoying your new body where there is no more disease, no more pain, just happiness and joy! I look forward to meeting you again someday on the otherside of the pearly gate. - Martha Barry

“ God bless you all of David's family and friends I know personally that David gave more to you all than he could possibly even know. I see it in my friends actions and growth in faith throughout David's journey. I know something of understanding that others somewhere always have it harder than we do so we should hold precious what we do have and appreciate it. I do not know if I ever met David that he was not smiling and happy and what did he have to be happy for, what he has now, the Kingdom of Heaven. His joy, through an unthinkable difficult life, should be and is, an inspiration to us all left behind to soak it up, every day what we have here while it last and not dwell on the negative... he didn't.

Thank you David.
