

Deborah Lynn Foreman

January 12, 1952 - May 16, 2022

Deborah Lynn Foreman was born on January 12, 1952, in Pensacola, Florida, and passed from this world on May 16, 2022, in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Debbie is a woman much loved or completely hated by those that knew her with little in between. She was generous to a fault, and woe to those that took advantage to her as she would pursue you with righteous fury. As she was warm and loving she accepted all her family and friends as they are. Her hobbies included things from knitting, to gardening, to buying tacky clothes, to trolling Republicans, and more. Debbie was well known for fearing only five kinds of snakes: Big, little, dead, alive, and rubber. Everything came to a halt when Jeopardy came on, however. David and Debbie were married May 3, 1997, at their home in Winchester.

She is remembered by all those who love her. Her children William Strong and Judi Spitz and husband James will greatly miss her, as will her grandchildren Addie Walls, Madison Walls, Madison Spitz, Ariel Strong, Cynthia Strong and Alexandria Strong and numerous and varied nieces and nephews along with stepdaughters, April Davis and husband Eric and Colleen Schlekewy, step-grandchildren, Taylor Woodall and wife Brinlee, Mackenzie Killion and husband Josh, Makalia Schlekewy and Blakely Yancey. Debbie's surviving siblings include Adrian Stewart, Shirley Jones, Dianne Brooks, Linda Cooley, and David Stewart.

She was predeceased by her husband Dave Foreman, and her parents, Ernie and Ada Stewart and son Colin Strong, and siblings Charlotte Gill, Gerald Stewart, and Donald Stewart.

The family would like to express gratitude to Jenetta McClure who has been their rock at this time.

During this time a celebration of life is still pending for Deborah.

Tribute Wall

“ Deborah Lynn Foreman

December 20, 2022 at 11:29 AM

“ I have so many lifetime memories with this special lady and friend ! My most precious memory is when she came to my door in 1974 and introduced herself to me as my neighbor and we struck a friendship right then and have been not only friends but loving sisters! Deb I'm going to miss you but know that we will see each other again because I'm trusting in Jesus and the circle will not be broken! I love you and just say Rest in the peace and the Live of Christ! Later love your sidekick! ❤️🤔

judith wall - May 24, 2022 at 02:00 PM

Beautiful tribute for your mother. We all have great memories she told it how it was good and bad. I love her and miss her. We will see each other one day. We have to keep that in our minds. She is with Dave and the rest of her family. Sisters forever

Kathy Wall - May 24, 2022 at 05:40 PM

My heart is both broken & rejoicing. Broken because we all lost a beautiful lady. Her heart was pure. I will never forget her undying love nor will I ever forget the bond she brought to myself & her daughter, Judith the night of her death. That bond will last a lifetime. The bond I now have with her sister, Diane, & her Stepdaughter, Colleen. I am so blessed with them in my life.

And my rejoice because in my heart I feel she is now with her beloved recently deceased husband, Dave. I pray they are dancing & laughing together ❤️

Thank you Debbie for choosing me as one of your friends the past 26 years ❤️🙏

Jenetta McClure - May 24, 2022 at 08:49 PM

BH

I met Debbie at an Aaron Neville concert that was held on a rooftop in Dallas in the nineties. I went alone. She came over to me and said, "What are you doing? You should come over here and join me and Linda (her sister) and Mattie (her friend). We have all been friends ever since. She had a spark and spunk I'll never forget. May God bless and comfort your family.

Brenda Hoskins - May 28, 2022 at 10:25 AM