I met Fawn last year when she took care of my mother at the Nursing Home where she worked. Fawn was the most caring person I had ever met. She took care of all the residents like they were her own children. She played with them and made them feel loved. My mother loved Fawn. They would fight and joke like children. My mother grew very possessive of Fawn to the point that at nights when Fawn made rounds on the residents on her hall she would take my mother with her.

After my mother went home to be with the Lord Fawn and I remained friends. I would call her she would text me. I could never get her to call. She loved to text. She had the biggest heart, would do anything for anyone and was always caring or concerned about someone. I would invite her to church with me but she would say "I will come but just not yet. Please pray for me." Sometimes she would text me and ask me to pray for her, her mother or her brother and she would text "right now Laura". My sister Maria and I adopted her as our baby sister. She meant that much to us.

Fawn, a life interrupted but never forgotten.

“ My first memory of Fawn was when she and her parents came into my office in Fort Smith, AR. I do not remember why they were there, but I am sure it was about a job, as that is what I did as a recruiter for Express Personnel. It was about 1988. Fawn would have been not quite 2 years old, full of spunk, and going to have fun any place she was. There was a bunch of people in the lobby, and she was entertaining everyone. I can still see that beautiful blond hair, pulled into 2 pony tails on each side of the back of her head. She was wearing a little blue dress with white lace.

I do not think I have seen Fawn since then, but that is the picture I see in my mind everytime her grandmother, Kat, and I talked about her throughout the years when I got an update on her.

Fawn, you will be missed by many.
