“ Gramma was one of the strongest people I have ever known. She taught me to stand up for myself, how to cook without a recipe, and how to keep going even when it hurt. I will always remember her in her garden or at the kitchen table demolishing everyone at spoons.

“ One of my most favorite things I ever heard aunt Janet say... She was telling me about some of the rough stuff her and her sisters used to do playing around. At the end she says “yeah you better have insurance if you’re gonna play games with me!”
