Grandpa John always loved having my little sister, Kara, and I around him. It always made his day. We always loved seeing our grandpa. We would always go fishing because was it favorite thing to do. It made it even better when his grandkids were with him. We would always sit around the living room and he would tell us so many stories of when he was younger. Even these last few years, when we visited, he would continue telling us those stories and stories of when we were younger. He always got a kick out of my little sister and I. I am really going to miss my grandpa but he will always be right here in my memories and my heart. He is now in great hands and I will see him again one day.
