“ Aunt Margie was always my favorite aunt. She loved me and just about anyone else she ever met. She was my friend. She was my dad's best friend. You could always count on her to attend any family event, i.e., weddings, funerals, potlucks, births, hospitalizations, graduations. She attended all of these things, with a gift in hand.

I believe that she was the glue that held the Purdy family together after her mother's passing.

She had a phenomenal memory when it came to birthdays. Tell her your birthday and she would never forget it and could recall it upon demand.

She always smiled, laughed or kidded you a bit when she saw you.

I believe this quote, from Maya Angelou, best describes my Aunt Margie:

“I've learned that people will forget what you said, people will forget what you did, but people will never forget how you made them feel.”

My Aunt Margie always made me feel... SPECIAL.

And I think, in reality, it was SHE that was SPECIAL.

Love, Sharon###imported-begin##Sharon Frantz###imported-end##
