“ Pam and I became friends in the last year or so. We introduced ourselves at a local political meeting and hit it off right away. Even though we hadn't been acquainted long, we fit a lot into a short amount of time. Pam introduced me to Oklahoma BBQ, the Gathering Place, and Ron's Hamburgers. We shopped in Tulsa and I introduced her to Winco and Fish Daddy's. I visited Oklahoma City area with Pam and met her daughter Jena & family. All lovely kind people and Pam was so proud of them all.

Pam attended college here in Okmulgee and we visited the campus a few times and she was impressed with how much it had changed and in particular with the Cowboy Cafe.

We had tentatively planned to hit the art museums in Tulsa and planned more culinary adventures at area restaurants.

My granddaughters accompanied Pam and I on many of our adventures and always looked forward to seeing her. She will be missed. God bless Miss Pam and I have no doubt she is in the hands of our loving heavenly father.

I miss you my friend.
