“ To say my dad was an amazing human would be an understatement. Keith was an incredible, charismatic person who had the best personality. He was so funny he could make a rock laugh. His voice echos throughout my head. I learned so much from him and I will carry with me what I've learned for the rest of my life. I love my father and I miss him terribly.

Keith used to come by and visit with me and my sister at her place of business. He was always delightful to talk to and was so smart . We always looked forward to his visits when he was around Tulsa. Will miss him.

“ Oh I have so many great memories with the man I thought to be the clostset like God. I mean that in so many honest ways. He was my big brother that was not ever scared or shakin by anything. He was the very best at everything. The only 2 people that were my peers outside of him growing up we're. Young Mike Tyson. And Bruce Lee. He was like the both of them together all inside of him. Honestly the baddest person with his feet and hands in the world. No if and or buts about it. The best martial artist and hand weapon expert I had ever seen. Still till this day. No way anyone could do any better. I love you big bro. I have missed you so much these last 20 years. And will never be the same without knowing you are somewhere if I ever needed you. Idk I have nobody here that could ever fill your shoes bro. I learned all great and food things from watching and idlimg you. I just hope that I can even have what it takes to be there to see you to your new home. And see you one last time. If you left me anything to hang onto of yours all I ever wanted was your strength and your ability to conquer what you were scared of.
