Awe moments is a crazy term that people experience in everyday life. It can happen anywhere and at anytime to anyone. It's an overwhelming feeling like nothing else. I had my awe moment on August 25, 2019. Royce Iman Turner, even though you didn't get to experience life, we got to experience you. I never knew I could love someone so quick, it was never a thought, it came natural. I am hurt and confused as to why my child didn't get to live but I cannot question God on his decision, just know that we love you and you will always and forever will be in our hearts. - Mom
