“ Popo: the memories of you tinkering with anything you can get your hands on, everyday, before the sun rose and the smile of sheer joy when showing off your impressive speaker setup which was so proudly displayed with such distain and the plethora of yard sales you and Nana loved so dearly will always be remembered by me and will be a part of my childhood memories forever. Popo you will be missed, but you will be in our hearts and thoughts forever. Rest in Peace Popo.##imported-begin##nicholas james perry##imported-end##

“ My grandfather "Popo" is a remarkable man who blessed us in having taught us about having integrity, hard work and keeping our homes sharply maintained. Memories of him sitting on his work bench "tinkering" with his tools fixing stuff for Nana or just exploring electronics and the mechanics of any items he felt like disassembling and reassembling. He was a mastermind at work early before the crack of dawn keeping himself busy. He liked to blast the speakers in his garage to show us how loud his stereo plays mostly country music (which I never liked country music much). My Popo lived a full life and he loved my Nana wholeheartedly for 57 years. I thank God for putting those two in each others lives and for everything they taught me and all the years they loved and cared for me. Popo is in my prayers and in my heart forever. Thank you Jesus for the privilage of being Ted Turney's granddaughter. Rest in Peace Popo! I love you. Living by Faith, Chris##imported-begin##Chris Woods##imported-end##
